

Serialized Labels

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Ask a question about this product

Description

Property ID Labels are used for asset tracking and are applied to physical property (computers, tools, machinery, etc.) to protect against loss and theft. We have many types of serialized and bar-coded Property ID Labels. Anodized Aluminum, our most popular option, offers long-term durability at a reasonable cost. Made from high quality .003" aluminum with the colours and graphics permanently etched into the surface. With this durable material, labels can be used indoors or out. If your labels require extreme environmental durability, (exposure to direct sunlight, high temperatures, salt spray, cleaning solvents, or continuous abrasion), this is the material we recommend. It is made specifically for those conditions and will not crack, chip, or peel over its useful life.